99 per cent of businesses aren't living up to their full potential. Is yours? Ainslie Waldron, MBA, knows that any company can reach its maximum potential in six months or less if management will take ten actions that 99 per cent of business leaders never do.

We'll learn these success secrets from a business turnaround and profitability expert who specializes in small to mid size companies. Best of all, she will educate us with humor and anecdotes of her experiences as a corporate consultant. And she loves educating women entrepreneurs and women within companies who have the power to bring about change.

Ainslie is visiting us from Brisbane, Australia where she is Managing Director of Accelerated Business Success Consultancy. She has been dubbed "Australia's leading business thinker" and is known for her unconventional business strategies.

She advises firms in her own country as well as the US and UK and is also a consultant to the United Nations. She heads Australia's largest Mensa organization, having one of the world's highest IQs. Her book, "Theory of Accelerated Business Success" catapulted her onto the world stage in 2008. We are thrilled to welcome her to Los Angeles!
